

Cape Girardeau

MISSOURI – Primary Filming Site of the Blockbuster Movie 'Gone Girl'

Guided Bus Tour

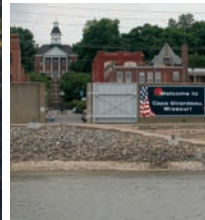

Cape Girardeau welcomed Hollywood to town in the fall of 2013 as Gillian Flynn's novel Gone Girl came to life. For about six weeks, Cape Girardeau played the role of North Carthage, Missouri, in the 2014 film directed by David Fincher that stars Ben Affleck, Neil Patrick Harris, Rosamund Pike and Tyler Perry.

Filming took place at about 30 locations all over town. See the major filming sites and staging locations. Visit some of the favorite haunts of the cast and crew. Walk the same picturesque Mississippi riverfront viewed in the trailer and movie. Stand in the same gazebo utilized for a key scene in the film.

Learn about the transformations that took place to ensure sites matched the director's vision as well as behind-the-scene insights from a step-on guide – and so much more.
